

Events on the Horizon

Spring is in the air and with spring comes the excitement of some of the events that Iron Road continues to support. Event sponsorship is one of the ways the company believes it can contribute to local community endeavour in a small way and help make a difference through its involvement.

Pedal Prix 24 Hour Race Murray Bridge

Best of luck to Wudinna and Karcultaby Area Schools for the upcoming 24 hour Pedal Prix race in Murray Bridge. Unless you have been involved, it's difficult to appreciate the effort, planning and commitment that goes into such an amazing event. To the teachers, particularly Neil, the kids, the engineers (super Craig), the parents and the helpers, all the best for another awesome weekend ahead!

Wudinna and District Show

2015 marks Iron Road's fifth year attending the Wudinna Show. This year Brad Hunter and Tim Scholz will be manning the Iron Road information tent. Brad is Iron Road's Principal Civil Engineer and is involved in the infrastructure detail of the CEIP. Brad and Tim are wealth of knowledge across the entire project. It's a great opportunity to drop in and collect information or ask questions about the upcoming Government assessment process.

Iron Road Port to Port Fun Run – Port Neill

For any keen runners or walkers in the district, Saturday 10 October will see the second Port to Port Fun Run kick-off. You can tackle a 6km or 12km walk or run from Cowley's Beach to the Port Neill jetty. There are prizes to be won and the Port Neill Progress Association will put on a great family day with free face painting, jumping castles and kid's relay races on the beach after. Thank you and bye for now

After three and a half years of travelling back and forth to the Eyre Peninsula, enjoying all that the region has to offer, particularly the people, it is with mixed emotions that I would like to say thank you and all the best as I head off on maternity leave and the next exciting chapter of parenthood. It has been my absolute pleasure getting to know the community and all the people in it who make it tick so vibrantly. Thank you to all those who have shared your time, knowledge, skills and friendship with me, it has been my most challenging and yet my most fulfilling role yet. I do intend to return in 2016 all going to plan but in the interim I am confident the project is in good hands with Tim and the team. All the best for harvest, thanks to recent rains it looks to be another good year.

Good bye for now and best wishes, Tilly
